Comments: I am designing for y'all multi ways of ability to clean up this and possible others mines through out Colorado. I am studying the best processes known now. I will have it drawn out and engineered tom. for y'all. Y'all never created the mine and there is 1000's more. I will be happy to do my best for a back up plan to give y'all. I am so sorry it happen and please remember it was when not who are why. It is the owners fault and how they can get away with it. They are 3 super funded mines in 40 miles where I live. The ex-owners destroyed the land and ran off to Canada to avoid the lawsuits. Its the way they can get away with murder of killing and robbing USA wildlife and people that has to drink the water contaminated that causes cancer and other bad effects. Thank you McCarthy for your concern and its nice to hear that y'all take the blame but technically its not EPA fault it was when it would happen. There is going to be more and better to fix the ex-owners mess up and they should be accounted to pay if they are around or alive. The old mines of course we can't dig up the dead to pay but all those tycoons know what they do and have back up plans to crap over the land. I have proof on several and I can not understand if hidden in Canada why we can not force those evil multi millionaires to pay for there actions. I be happy to redesign the old ways for better results.
